(NEARLY) NAKED AMBITION

Former Rochester schoolgirl Kelly Brook is the red-hot favourite to win BBC1 TV talent contest Strictly Come Dancing. The actress and TV presenter ,who now lives near Maidstone, has promised to wear a revealing flesh-coloured leotard for the show which begins a week on Saturday.

EXCLUSIVE

BY SIMON ROBINSON

A HEADMISTRESS at a top girls' school has vowed to fight plans to merge it with a struggling local boys' school.

Chapter School head Sue Dore said she would be furious if Medway council goes ahead with plans to shut her school and nearby Temple School to form a vocational academy in Strood.

She said: "The suggested merger is not good news. We have 1,100 pupils and have been building successfully year on year. Why do we need to close?

"The proposal would lose everything Chapter has stood for.

"We're concerned about losing the school ethos which we've built up over the years. We care for each other, support one another when things go wrong and celebrate together when things go well.

"An academy would give us great buildings, which would be lovely to have – but we'd lose that family ethos.

"I'd be very sad and angry if the council adopted this proposal and would feel I'd let my parents, pupils and staff down."

The proposed merger is one of four options put forward by council chiefs on Monday looking at improving education standards in Strood.

Medway council's cabinet will discuss the schemes on Tuesday.

Miss Dore said she favoured a co-educational proposal. She said: "We have boys in our sixth form, most of them come from Temple School and they have all integrated well.

"We would be very pleased if the council decided to make us co-educational as this option does not destabilise our pupils."

School sports hall gets star treatment

BY GARETH ARNOLD

DAME Kelly Holmes opened a new sports hall and computer suite at Lower Halstow Primary School last week which teachers hope will become an asset to the whole community.

The Olympic double-gold medallist visited the school last Thursday, chatting with children and teachers, following the opening ceremony.

Head teacher Cathy Walker said: "She was fantastic – very open, very welcoming – the children weren't fazed by her at all.

"She joined in with activities and answered questions; it was so good to see a celebrity willing to do that."

Dame Kelly spoke to the children about their sporting interests, and took a tour of the school and its new facilities with teachers and representatives from Kent County Council.

As well as a new hall, the new extension includes a computer suite, plus a library. The project also saw a remodelling of the school building for easier access and computers and whiteboards for all classrooms.

It is hoped the sports hall, financed by Kent County Council, Sport England and Lottery Sport grants, will enable the school and local community to take part in a range of indoor activities.

GOOD SPORT: Dame Kelly Holmes joins in with children at Lower Halstow Primary School

The total project cost around £1.5 million with KCC contributing £840,000; a total of £219,300 from the sports grant and the remainder from the sale of school land.

Mrs Walker said: "It's really raised the profile of PE in the school curriculum, but it also allows us to to do a whole host of after-school activities.

"We can not only invite other schools to take part in sporting events, but run activities for the whole community."

Several community groups are already using the hall, including a badminton club, and dance classes.

Mrs Walker said: "There's always talk about young people not having enough to do. We hope this will help."

KCC cabinet member for education resources, operations and skills Mark Dance said: "It is so important for children to find pleasure in sports of all kinds from an early age."

Dame Kelly, from Hildenborough, near Tonbridge, won both the 800m and 1500m gold medals at the Athens 2004 Olympic Games. She retired from athletics in 2005.

NEWS IN BRIEF

New road website that's a real hoot

A CONTROVERSIAL new website is asking motorists to sound their horn at roadworkers in an effort to get them to work harder.

Hoottheroadworkers.com has attracted criticism on safety grounds as critics say it could provoke road rage style confrontations – now dubbed "hootrage".

Sites mentioned specifically include the M2 where bridge safety work is taking place and the A2 near Cobham.

Thugs in midnight attack on teenager

A 19-YEAR-OLD man was robbed at knife-point and punched in the head in the early hours of Saturday.

Two men attacked the teenager as he reached the junction of New Road and City Way, Rochester, at 12.15am.

The men also stole the injured man's mobile phone, neck chain and earring.

If you witnessed the incident or have any information, call PC Lisa Stevens on 01634 792530.

Concerns over speed camera information

THE SPEED camera programme is in chaos after the Government admitted calculations on casualties and lives saved could be incorrect.

A spokeswoman for the Kent and Medway Safety Camera Partnership said: "If the Government decide to change the way the figures are collated we will follow suit."

Mobile cameras will be operating in Medway today, tomorrow and Friday at "accident blackspots".

High performing school could merge with worst

Parents set to oppose academy

COUNCIL chiefs have revealed plans to merge two secondary schools in Strood into a new £25 million vocational academy – a first for Medway.

The proposal would see Temple School and Chapter School combined and expanded to offer courses such as baby care and engineering.

But the move is set to be controversial with parents, as Temple boys' school recorded the worst GCSE results in England's education league tables published in January, whereas Chapter girls' school has a good academic record.

The new multi-million pound academy would be based on the site of Chapter school and funded directly through government and private sponsorship.

If agreed by Medway council's cabinet next Tuesday planners would start working towards an opening date of September 2009.

Councillor Les Wicks said the vision is for an academy which provides a wide range of academic and vocational courses, with enhanced sporting and IT facilities for a school roll of between 1,200 and 1,400 pupils.

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

He said: "Chapter school is already a successful and popular school and results at Temple have shown a good improvement this year, although there is work to be done to bring boys' results in line with the girls in Strood.

"We are looking to the future to ensure all our young people have access to first class facilities. One of the council's main priorities is to give children the best start in life."

Medway council's children's services chief Rose Collinson said: "We've been concerned about the standards achieved by Temple students for some time.

"We've been working with the school to help them improve and this year's results show a pleasing upturn on last year.

"However, we want to see a greater and sustained improvement than we have been able to achieve so far.

"We are confident these proposals will provide leading edge educational opportunities for boys and girls in Strood."

Council chiefs said the schools would continue to operate on two sites until all the work is complete for the September 2009 opening.

Only two per cent of pupils at Temple School got five passes at C grade or above including English and maths in January education tables.

OBJECTION: Parents are expected to oppose council plans to merge differing performing schools into one academy

Syringe used in teen attack

A TEENAGE girl was stabbed twice in the stomach with a syringe during an unprovoked attack.

The 19-year-old was assaulted as she sat chatting to friends on a bench in Railway Street, Chatham, in the early hours of Saturday.

Two men and a woman approached the girl at about 1am and became increasingly abusive.

The woman then lunged at the young girl, striking her twice in the stomach.

After going to Medway Maritime Hospital in Gillingham she discovered she had two hypodermic needle puncture wounds to her stomach.

She now faces an anxious wait to find out if the needle had been used.

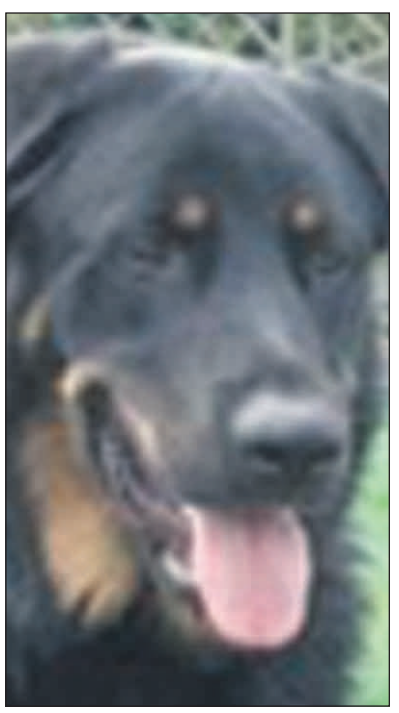

Det Con Dave Cooper said: "We are keen to arrest the person responsible for this offence."

The woman is described as white, 5ft 2ins, with blonde shoulder-length hair, a round face with pointed jaw. She had dark eyes and wore cream or yellow clothing.

If you can help with this investigation call Det Con Cooper on 01634 792529.

TOP DOG: 15-month-old Rottweiler, Diesel, is a rescued puppy who is being entered into the RSPCA's Rescue Dog of the Year comp

Diesel revving up to win RSPCA competition

ROTTWEILER Diesel is in the running for the RSPCA's rescue Dog of the Year competition.

The 15-month-old pooch, who was rescued by the Leybourne Animal Centre, is up against five other handsome hounds in the south east regional heat of the nationwide contest.

Like the other 46 dogs vying for the title, Diesel has triumphed against adversity in his short life.

At just 18-weeks-old he was taken in by an RSPCA inspector after his previous owner was taken to hospital.

The experience left him "bewildered", according to his new keepers.

Mr Davis, of High Halstow, said: "We adopted Diesel in August 2006. Although he was a friendly dog he would never sit or lay down near the family in the evenings.

"He was in good condition, but needed building up and seemed rather bewildered.

"After about two weeks we noticed him slowly starting to get closer to us each evening, until eventually he felt like being part of the family.

"He's had a huge impact on us. The children are constantly playing with him and love being in his company."

If you would like to vote for Diesel to go through to the competition finals, log on to www.rspca.org.uk/doty.

The overall winner will receive a host of prizes, including a year's supply of dog food, RSPCA pet insurance for a year and a photo session with Dogs Today magazine.

PCSO Marcus West, who is responsible for policing the high street and surrounding areas, will be on hand to answer any questions face-to-face on Tuesday, October 9, between 3pm and 6pm.

He said: "The high street boasts a close-knit community and I am keen to meet with local people so that we can work together to tackle any issues they have."

New name for charity signals expanding care

A CHILDREN'S charity heavily backed by a Medway company has changed its name as it expands its work.

Help a Local Child, which has helped disadvantaged youngsters across the county for the past four years, has been renamed Help a Kent Child to help define the charity as a countywide organisation.

In the past year the charity has received £20,000 in donations from Henry Schein UK Holdings, in Gillingham Business Park, allowing it to support six smaller groups.

Boy left terrified after being shot by teen yobs

A YOUNG boy was shot with a ball-bearing gun from point blank range by a gang of teenage yobs.

The terrified 11 year old was targeted as he played on green fields in Cornwallis Avenue in Gillingham, on Saturday, September 1 between 4.15-4.30pm.

Det Con Simon Hollingsworth said: "The people responsible for this assault may have felt their bullying antics were just a few minutes of fun, but the boy they shot has been greatly affected by this incident."

Budget boosts for the latest university freshers

A HOST of special offers have been lined up for the influx of freshers taking up courses at Medway's university campuses from next week.

Students can take advantage of free travel on certain Arriva routes, discounts at cafes, free entry to nightclubs and cut-price leisure facilities.

Medway Students' Association spokeswoman Sophie Bruschan said: "All our freshers will be learning how to manage on a budget, so we hope our offers help them."

Artist reveals meaning behind his tribe

It's a cross to bear for scarecrows

THE mysterious scarecrow figures pitched up at Fort Amherst during the summer are believed to signify a field of fallen soldiers.

EXCLUSIVE

BY SIMON ROBINSON

Finnish craftsman Reijo Kela revealed to this newspaper that the 130-strong Hei People has a hidden meaning.

He said: "People often ask what precisely the idea behind the Hei People is. Is it a state of psychological withdrawal? Or forgotten people?

"I don't want to provide an answer. Each viewer is free to come to their own conclusions.

"It may, however, be of interest to learn that if the Hei People were to be completely undressed there would remain a great number of wooden crosses standing in the field."

The scarecrows appeared at the Chatham fort in the run-up to July's Tour de France and moved on to a field near Queenborough on the Isle of Sheppey.

During their stay they were vandalised by gangs of yobs who tore the tribe apart and even threw one into the River Medway.

Reijo drew inspiration for the People from his 1988 piece The Silent People of Kainuu, which saw 1,000 peat-headed beings erected in a field near his birthplace, Suomussalmi, in northern Finland.

Their visit to north Kent was their first trip abroad, but despite the mindless destruction Reijo has no regrets about bringing his tribe.

He said: "I always considered the project as a social experiment and was aware of the risk of vandalism.

"After the incidents I did feel angry at first, mostly on behalf of all the volunteers who spent countless hours putting the installations up and looking after the People.

ART OF THE MESSAGE: Finnish craftsman Reijo Kela revealed that the Hei People are like fallen soldiers

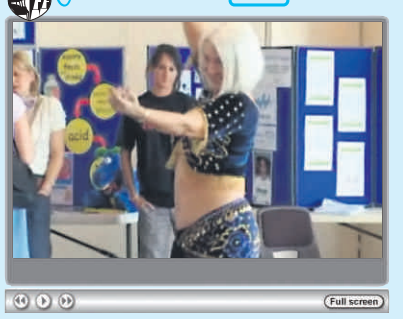

"But I soon realised that a few mindless vandals could not ruin the great positive impact the installations had already created.

"The People moved on from their last location on the Isle of Sheppey earlier this month but will appear again in another secret location sometime in the autumn. Keep your eyes open for their arrival."

Reijo admitted that the Hei People project was back-breaking work – taking 1,200 hours to put up the 646 figures so far seen in north Kent.

Club promotes healthier living

DOZENS of people attended the launch of a new community club in Twydall which encourages users to have more active lifestyles.

The 4Life club is open to families and individuals of all ages at Holy Trinity Church Hall in Twydall Lane.

It is being run by Medway council public health team to get people trying out new activities combined with healthier diets.

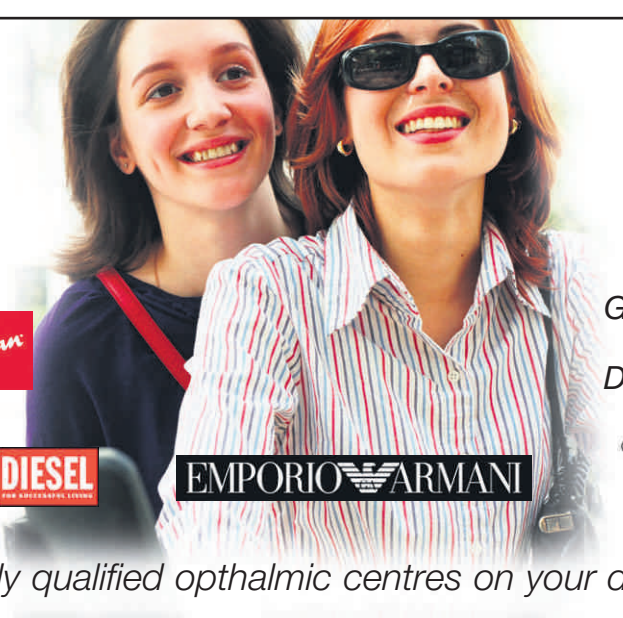

For last Thursday's launch, from 10am to 4pm visitors could get information from a number of stands, watch belly dancing demonstrations, and take part in art, crafts and pottery lessons.

The 4Life club has been set up with the support of Project Champion, a European Union funded cross-border scheme to bring improvements in community health in Medway and Grande-Synthe in Dunkirk.

The first 4Life club was launched in Chatham in January and now has 130 members taking part in music classes, tai chi and a walking group.

Sally-Ann Ironmonger, from Medway's public health team, said: "Medway has a higher obesity level than the national average, so we have been working on a number of projects to encourage families to enjoy healthier diets allied to increased leisure activities."

Stressed commuters in call to lift smoking ban

SMOKING may be allowed at railway stations again as stressed out commuters demand a rethink on the ban.

Passengers have bombarded the office of Transport Secretary Ruth Kelly, saying the ban on lighting up in the open air at stations is ridiculous.

Stations at Chatham, Rochester, Rainham and Gillingham all have a huge volume of commuters using London-bound services.

And passengers say the smoking ban adds to stress when trains are delayed or cancelled – and journey times drastically increased.

The move has the backing of former Health Secretary John Reid whose moderate plans to curb smoking in public places were scrapped in favour of more drastic measures when he was moved in a cabinet reshuffle.

Mr Reid said: "I have always favoured a degree of choice for adults and thought we have to be careful not to ban smoking everywhere."

BY NICK AMES

Another factor behind the proposed rethink is a drastic drop in revenue for station cafes with outside tables since the ban came into force on July1.

So Miss Kelly has asked her staff to draw up plans for "limited smoking zones" on platforms which would not inconvenience other rail users.

However, any proposed reform is expected to meet serious opposition from current Health Secretary Alan Johnson and Network Rail continues to support a blanket ban, saying it "puts the interest of all customers first."

A Department of Health spokesman added: "Our private poll shows the majority oppose any weakening of the ban."

The proposed move comes as Keep Britain Tidy reported a 43 per cent rise in the amount of cigarette butts dropped on Britain's pavements since the smoking ban came into effect in July.

Smokers standing in front of bars and clubs in town centres often have nowhere to put their fag ends.

Before the smoking ban was brought in councils throughout Britain spent a staggering £220 million of taxpayers' money every year clearing up cigarette butts.

To stop this cost soaring in light of the ban, the environmental group has encouraged Medway council to provide more specialist bins for the smoking-related litter.

A Keep Britain Tidy spokesman said: "The number of dropped dog ends is no surprise as people are concerned about the fire hazard of using a normal litter bin."

A Medway Council spokeswoman said it would look into the request.

'WHERE'S MY PAPER?'

THE launch of Yourmedway last week has been widely welcomed by newsagents who saw hundreds of copies disappear from their shelves within hours of the first delivery. In Welbies newsagent near Rainham station, owner Debbie Jennings hopes to get a look at today's issue of Yourmedway. "I didn't have a chance to look through the first one, it was gone so quickly," she said ."We opened at five in the morning, and they were gone by 8 o'clock – we even had people asking about it."

Rape claims are withdrawn

A WOMAN who claimed she was raped in a Chatham park has been arrested on suspicion of wasting police time after withdrawing the allegation.

The 27-year-old raised the alarm on her mobile phone, saying she had been sexually assaulted in Victoria Gardens between 6pm and 8pm on Saturday, August 25 – sparking a massive police hunt for her attacker.

Teams of forensic experts searched the surrounding area for evidence and detectives spent hours trying to bring the offender to justice.

This week, police revealed that the case is now closed, adding that vital police resources which could have been used on other inquiries have been wasted.

After withdrawing her allegation the woman was questioned and released on bail to return to a police station at a later date to find out if she will be charged.

Police spokeswoman Sally Smith said: "Officers followed up numerous lines of enquiries including the gathering of forensic evidence and viewing CCTV.

"In the course of these investigations the allegation of the serious sexual assault was withdrawn. In light of this a woman was arrested on suspicion of wasting police time."

QUESTION & ANSWER

KEVIN CHRISTIE

Q What's your background and how and when did you come to Medway?

A I worked in various companies for 20th Century Fox and returned to UK as Deputy MD for six years.

I then partnered an international film sales company with Windmill Lane Studios and U2 Management. Since then I have had a successful career raising monies for media-related projects.

I first came to Medway in 2000 in search of a site that had a relationship to Charles Dickens. I was introduced to Chatham Maritime by Locate in Kent.

Q Why did you take the job on?

A Most people think only of Dickens as relevant to his writing. I think, that unlike many other authors, he embodies a time in our history for which we have great nostalgia. This coupled with the fascination that many overseas visitors have for this period provided the blueprint for an entertaining attraction.

Q What does your job entail?

A My role is to look to the future and how we can grow the facility both as entertainment and education. Perhaps, like no other author, Dickens' own showmanship and writing make these two approaches possible. The challenge is to make Chatham Maritime a visitor destination.

Q How excited are you by Dickens World and its growth?

A Very. We have hardly scratched the surface. What's great is that there are so many different people from different walks of life who have a view and bring something both to the debate and ideas for the future.

Q What's the next big thing in line for Dickens World?

A Our next big thing is always our next thing. Many people are not yet aware how much Dickens World has been designed to be a part of the entertainment culture of the surrounding area.

Chatham Maritime offers boating, shopping, The Royal Historic Dockyard and we have added to the complex by creating the cinema and restaurants and also our own Theatre (The Britannia) and restaurant bar (The Six Jolly Fellowship 'Porters').

We already offer Jongleurs comedy every Friday in the theatre and live traditional music in the bar every Thursday. Our challenge is to continually find suitable performance that hits the mark.

Q What do you like about Medway?

A I read a review of Dickens World on the web where a person who lived here once described the area as dreary. I think this view so misses the point. There is an industrial relationship with the water here which goes back hundreds of years.

It's in the fabric and the people. It will never disappear and I think it should be embraced and celebrated.

I think the promised inbound investment is long overdue.

Q How positive have Medway residents been to Dickens World?

A No more or less than any other people. We are not a theme park or a museum. People who expect either are disappointed and we can never please everyone.

Our good to great value scores are greater than 90 per cent. We strive to improve our offer for this middle ground.

Q What's the best part about your job?

A Letters and or comments from people who had a great time. Providing jobs across our development for 200 people.

Q What's the worst?

A People who complain as a means to getting something for nothing, (not to be confused with a genuine grievance).

Assumptions we are funded by either the Government or the local authority, which we are not.

Scorsese tribute to late pal

ACCLAIMED movie director Martin Scorsese has recorded a personal foreword for a very special film screening at Canterbury Cathedral tonight.

Powell and Pressburger flick A Canterbury Tale, made in 1944, will be shown in the cathedral at an exclusive event attended by members of the original cast and crew.

The late Michael Powell, who wrote, produced and directed the film, was from Bekesbourne, near Canterbury and was educated at Kings School until he was 13.

His widow, Oscar winner Thelma Schoonmaker, was introduced to Powell by Scorsese, and now edits the American's cinematic blockbusters, most recently the academy award-winning The Departed.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

She is flying over from New York to attend.

Scorsese, a lifelong fan of Powell's, was invited to record the foreword by event organisers BBC South East. The screening aims to raise money for the cathedral which is in desperate need of a £50 million restoration.

The film's female lead Sheila Sim, now Lady Attenborough, is also attending the screening.

BBC spokesman Helen Burt said: "The cathedral was a massive element in the original film, but at the time, due to restrictions on using the cathedral for commercial purposes, they were not allowed to shoot any of it inside. They had to recreate the interior of the cathedral elsewhere, so in a way this showing is like a homecoming for the film."

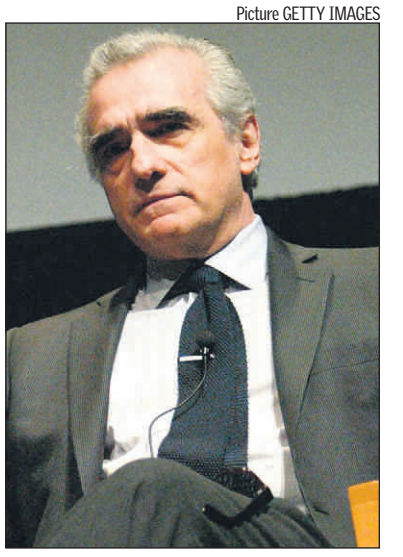

BBC South East will broadcast from the cathedral as a culmination of a series of programmes about Canterbury and the changes on the city over time.

The programmes trace those involved in the making of the 1944 film, including cast and extras, many of whom will be present at tonight's screening.

Powell's A Canterbury Tale is a reworking of Chaucer's epic 14th century tale.

Set in wartime Kent and filmed on location in the city, it tells the story of an American army sergeant, a British soldier and a land girl who solve a bizarre mystery involving a stranger who pours glue over village girls' hair, before completing their individual pilgrimages to the cathedral.

Market hit again after latest F&M scare

Picture REX FEATURES

HALTED: Cattle trading

RESTRICTIONS on the movement of livestock after the latest outbreak of foot and mouth has once again delivered a major headache for the town's cattle market.

And market chiefs say it could not have come at a worse time of year for traders.

Although some movement bans were lifted on Saturday, trading of livestock is still at a complete halt.

Mark Cleverdon, livestock auctioneer for the market's owner Hobbs Parker, said: "This really doesn't improve the situation for us at all.

"The lifting of restrictions means that we could have a 'red' market which deals with animals going direct to slaughter. But our major business at this time of year involves animals being traded from farm to farm either for fattening or breeding purposes.

"Last Friday we would have expected to see 10,000 cattle at the market ready to be moved on and this Friday another 5,000 so there is a tremendous backlog of cattle and sheep building up on farms around the country."

Only animals that are being sent directly to slaughter can currently be moved as authorities look to limit the danger of inadvertently spreading the disease following confirmed cases in Surrey.

Scores to be put on the doors of town's eateries

RESTAURANTS, cafés, takeaways and other food outlets in Maidstone will take part in a trial 'Scores on Doors' scheme next year.

The town has been selected with Ashford, Canterbury, Tonbridge and Malling, and Sevenoaks to pilot the food hygiene scheme after its success in London.

From January all food outlets taking part will display daily information on their door or window showing their customers what food and hygiene star rating they scored from council inspectors.

Seaside town sits beside big names as creative hub

MARGATE is one of the UK's top 20 creative towns, according to a survey carried out by a leading marketing group.

The seaside town was 19th in the overall list and was also included in the top 10 'towns to watch', along with Liverpool, Glasgow and Cardiff, in the survey, carried out by the Future Laboratory.

Analysts cited the so-called 'Tracey Emin Effect', the development of the Turner Contemporary and film Exodus – shot in the town – as factors in Margate's high rating.

Cost of property pricing out city's 999 workers

EMERGENCY workers in Canterbury say they can no longer afford to live in the city and many face a long commute to and from work following grueling shifts.

Many fire fighters, police officers, nurses and paramedics have been priced out of the market, with average house prices in the city topping £220,000.

With house prices a staggering eight times the average wage and still rising, there seems no let up is in sight, although the city council says it is addressing the problem.

Giving old phones for charity is a good call

WOOLWORTHS is offering the mobile phone generation a chance to go green, with a new recycling service.

People wanting to ditch their unwanted phones can even earn money and raise cash for charity at www.recycle-withwoolworths.co.uk. The company will pay between £3 and £130, and an extra 10 per cent will be donated to the firm's charity, Woolworths Kids First.

Outdated phones will then be either recycled or refurbished and sold abroad.

Department store in line for glamour look

A FRESH new look is being planned for House of Fraser, in a bid to update the firm's 70-year-old image.

Design consultancy Kinnersley Kent has been brought in to revamp the stores. Shoppers will get their first glimpse of the new look – described as "sleek, glamorous and confident" – at London's Oxford Street store during London Fashion Week this month.

Other stores, such as in Maidstone's Fremlin Walk, should receive their makeovers within the next five years.

River regeneration plans go on show

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

A THREE-day public exhibition of developers' plans for the flagship Rochester Riverside site took place this week

The four design experts have been shortlisted by Medway council to create 550 homes, a park and a luxury hotel on 17 acres of land at the southern end of the site.

There is also potential for a variety of commercial, retail, food and drink and community uses.

Medway council leader Rodney Chambers said: "This is an exciting opportunity to see the ambitions that developers and their architects have for this remarkable regeneration site.

"Rochester Riverside will lead the way in the regeneration of Medway. We must ensure it sets the highest possible standards in architecture, design and the creation of quality open space."

The exhibition, featuring models and illustrations of the proposals, was held at the Corn Exchange in Rochester High Street from Thursday to Saturday.

Representatives from all four developers and members of the council's regeneration unit, Medway Renaissance, were on hand to answer questions.

The companies vying for the prestigious contract are Countryside Properties, Crest Nicholson, Bellway Homes and Urban Splash.

FUTURE: The four shortlisted design experts have their ideas on display for the Rochester development

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Medway...

Why Twydall has become Medway's forgotten estate

SITUATED inconveniently between Gillingham and Rainham, and with about as much nominal recognition as Rainham Mark, Twydall is a part of Medway often forgotten by residents and councillors alike.

Road repairs, street lighting, rubbish collection and road cleaning are just some of the jobs Medway council is responsible for, but, no matter how much money is invested in the above, it always seems as though other areas come first in the 'bidding war' for use of these services.

Is this really the case? And are the three Twydall councillors, all members of the largest opposition party on Medway council, working as hard as they could be in championing the rights of the humble Twydall resident? I would suggest that the answer to the above cannot be seen in black and white.

For on the one hand it is true that councillors from all parties are constantly fighting each other with words and campaigns. For example, the Liberal Democrats recently presented a petition calling for residents-only parking in Westerham Close, while the Labour councillors concentrated on extending their claws in the direction of the ruling party.

What was the council's response to this petition? "This road does not currently fall within a controlled parking zone. However, the petitions concerns will be addressed in the main ward review process.

"To try and assist the current situation, parking enforcement activity will be increased as a deterrent to any inconsiderate drivers and any vehicle parked on the double yellow lines will be issued with a penalty charge notice."

It is certainly a wordy response from council officers, but the basic idea of the message is that no such request will be granted yet – and most likely won't be granted even after the main ward review process.

This is in contrast to Holly Road in Strood Rural ward, where white T-bar markings appeared almost overnight to deter inconsiderate parking in front of the limited access to the path which runs parallel with the road.

This could be seen as an example of Twydall being forgotten, cast aside in favour of another part of Medway. One could argue that, had the Labour councillors campaigned for this as well, council officers may have sat up and took note a little more. I beg to disagree.

Something as intense as residents-only parking would require detailed consultation with residents, whereas the white T-bar markings are simple to install, have minimal effects on the surrounding area and make life slightly easier and safer for the residents. No amount of campaigning by councillors could ever change those facts: the earliest anything would even be considered would be at the main ward review.

I think a change is needed, the Labour councillors are viewed by some as taking the area for granted. They believe they as good as have the ward in the bag at the next local elections. Either they need to change their attitude, or in four years' time they need to be replaced with people willing to stand up and proudly proclaim Twydall's existence.

TALK TIME

STEPHEN COOLE

The Medway resident talks about the best and worst things about living in the area, and how he would demolish the Pentagon Centre.

What do you like about living in Medway?

"The views, they're fantastic. The obvious focal points centre are around Rochester; the bridge, the castle and cathedral. Then there's Fort Amherst and the dockyard. But the less obvious vistas are equally enjoyable.

"Look up when walking from Strood to Chatham and you're greeted by an array of buildings and styles, of which the best, I think, is The Theatre Royal.

"Then there are the pubs, places with a real mix of people and great atmospheres.

"There seems to be a lot of people in the area doing their own thing, whether making music, writing or acting, and so many independent businesses.

"I don't know how a lot of them survive in the current climate of stack it high and sell it cheap."

What don't you like about Medway and what would you change?

"It's self perception. I guess it could be Medway's self-depreciating charm, but at times the area seems so down on itself. It was hit hard in the 80s and has the dubious pleasure of being the home of the 'chav'.

"But come on, look around – there are lots of good things about the area, some great.

"Constantly moaning about a place without getting on and just doing your thing can be pretty contagious.

"Look, now I'm moaning. There are social issues, but few that are unique to this area. I guess the only other downside is how disparate Medway can be. Being made-up of five towns, it has no real central point.

"I'm not certain what the consequences of this are, but it sometimes makes me sad.

"If I ruled Medway The Pentagon would have to go."

Community paper brings us together

What a fantastic idea this is. Community-based, and keeping people in touch with all the very exciting projects that are happening and are going to happen for our area.

We can make a difference as a community, but it is getting together as a community that matters.

I see Yourshepway as a very important tool in pulling the community together, informing us of important issues and outcomes. Well done, and I wish the paper every success.

Lynne Beaumont, Lib-Dem leader, Shepway council

Where there's a will there's a way

Following the alarming report from the National Consumer Council which highlights that as many as 27 million people in England and Wales have not made a will, Help the Aged would like to take the opportunity to stress that by not making a will, not only is there a danger that your possessions will not be distributed according to your wishes, but there is also the worry that relatives will be left with months of hassle and uncertainty as well as the possibility of having to pay hefty legal costs.

As the NCC report highlights, people should also be aware that cohabiting partners do not have any automatic rights.

But it is not just important to make a will, it is also essential to ensure that it is legally valid, which is why at Help the Aged we always recommend that wills should be drafted by a suitably qualified professional.

Help the Aged has also produced a free Will Information Pack for readers of retirement age, which offers a step-by-step guide through will-making.

For a free Will Information Pack, readers of retirement age can call Help the Aged on 020 7239 1965 or email wills@helptheaged.org.uk.

"I am glad to see a new newspaper for this area which is genuinely offering something new – the on-line television brings a whole new dimension to local news coverage," said Phil Read, from Faversham, who works in Dover.

Helping to give the people a voice

Good to see a new paper in Maidstone, we look forward to working with you to give the people of the borough an alternative voice to the mainstream politicians.

Paper is now the latest buzz word

Congratulations on your first edition of Yourmedway I've just got hold of a copy.

There seems to be a real buzz and excitement around it, with people wanting to read a copy and find out more about what it's all about. I don't think they will be disappointed when they do read it.

I saw the report on BBC South East Today about the launch and a lot of people came looking for Yourmedway because of it.

Will you be doing one for Dartford? That's where it's all happening – it's one of my favourite business areas.

Looking forward to next week's read

I live in Chatham and have just picked up a copy of Yourmedway. I want to let you know it is a wonderful paper. The quality of the paper is excellent, it is well-printed, looks great and is a fantastic read.

I used to be a printer and I always like to see local news. I don't get national papers anymore as I think they are on the same level as the Beano or Dandy – they are full of nonsense.

Yourmedway is full of local news, it was a great read. Please keep up the good work and I look forward to the next edition."

John Southgate, aged 70, by telephone, from Chatham

We can learn from the scarecrow artist

I love the Hei people, those amazing scarecrows that have been on show around Medway and on the Isle of Sheppey and was genuinely upset to see they suffered a couple of months ago at the hands of vandals.

But I was pleased to read in your new newspaper how the artist has come back from this setback and remains undeterred. His spirit is an inspiration to us all and I hope others will learn.

The old saying the few should not spoil it for the majority is true and he encapsulates that.

By the way, I liked your newspaper and look forward to it becoming a part of my week.

Big top not the only answer for city

I was amused to read Yourcanterbury's front page story about The Marlowe Theatre's plan to go into a giant circus tent to bring live theatre to the city when the old building is refurbished next year.

This city deserves a world-class theatre and hopefully the work will ensure that is the case.

And while I applaud the efforts made to ensure productions continue don't forget the Gulbenkian.

John Oates, by email

Taking a closer look at ancient words

In your report last week, Simon Robinson describes this book (Textus Roffensis) as "Anglo Saxon text," "Information on the English language" "record of the English language" but the section shown is in Latin. Why?

Eileen Denham, by email

• Editor's reply: We checked and the picture (below) is apparently in Anglo Saxon English from 900 years ago.

From one old favourite to another

Leslie Grantham has some big boots to fill in the stage version of the television classic Dad's Army

PLAYING a loveable rogue should not be too much of a stretch for Leslie Grantham, but he still found his latest role nerve-racking.

The 60-year-old actor made a successful return to his most famous creation – 'Dirty' Den Watts in EastEnders – after 14 years away.

But daring to take on one of the most beloved characters in British comedy history was an entirely different challenge.

Grantham is part of the ensemble cast in the new stage version of hit sitcom Dad's Army. He plays Private Joe Walker in the touring production, which revives two 'lost' episodes of the BBC's enormously successful comedy.

The actor admitted he was initially nervous about the idea.

"People around me were excited when I was offered the chance to be part of a stage version, though I wasn't sure," he said. "But the scripts are great and if the producer and director – who are far more intelligent than me – thought it would work, it had to be worth the risk."

The gamble appears to have paid off, with packed theatres and huge media interest generating a lot of buzz around the tour. Before starting rehearsals, Grantham made the decision not to toy with the version of Walker made famous by the original actor, James Beck.

He said: "People love these characters and they are really enjoying seeing them on stage.

"Many of the audience members know every line. To change who Walker or Jonesy or Pike is would be to short-change the audience and the writers. I was very happy to be offered the part. If anyone was going to play a skinny, ugly Cockney, it was going to be me."

Bearing in mind the necessarily dated concept of Dad's Army, Grantham puts its enduring success down to the high quality of the writing and the essential truth of the situations. Between them, writers Jimmy Perry and David Croft had first-hand experience of the Home Guard and the Army – something reflected in another BBC hit It Ain't Half Hot Mum, one of Grantham's personal favourites.

DAD'S ARMY – THE LOST EPISODES
Tuesday to Saturday, September 25-29
The Orchard Theatre, Dartford

He said. "During rehearsals I realised just how clever the writing is. As a cast, we are having great fun and I think the audiences pick up on that."

Grantham shares the bill with a number of great actors, including Peter Martin, who plays pompous Capt Mainwaring, and David Warwick as his main foil Sgt Wilson.

His relationship with fellow actors has not always been so harmonious, prompting Dirty Den's dramatic exit from EastEnders just 18 months after his return from the grave.

He was forced to apologise publicly after being involved in an internet sex scandal and was caught slating his co-stars. His character was murdered by on-screen wife Chrissie and buried in the Queen Vic's cellar, but Grantham claimed he had never intended to stay on for more than 18 months anyway.

He said: "It wasn't a difficult decision to return to EastEnders because I simply went back to kill off the character. It's one of those things you do and then move on from."

In his autobiography, released last year, Grantham revealed he had attempted suicide three times since the scandal broke. But he was touched by the level of support he received from members of the public.

"People of all ages came up to me in the street and wished me well," he said. "Getting the book out of the way certainly helped to clear some cobwebs and now I'm working on a screenplay."

• Dad's Army – The Lost Episodes will be at the Orchard Theatre, Dartford, from Tuesday, September 25, to Saturday, September 29. Performances start at 7.45pm daily, with 2.30pm matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. Tickets cost from £13.50-£20.50. To book, call the box office on 01322 220000, or visit www.orchardtheatre.co.uk.

Crowe back in the saddle

■ BY ELLIE GENOWER

AT TIMES, controversy used to follow Russell Crowe around like a bad smell.

Be it in a New York hotel, where he was accused of assaulting an employee with a telephone back in 2005, or his infamous row with producer Malcolm Gerrie at the 2002 Bafta Awards.

But these days, aged 43, the volatile New Zealand-born actor seems to have calmed down and happily settled with wife Danielle Spencer and their two sons Charlie, three, and one-year-old Tennyson, at his ranch in New South Wales, Australia.

During a career in which he's played such colourful characters as schizophrenic mathematician John Nash in A Beautiful Mind and brash British sea captain John Aubrey in Master And Commander, Russell's continued to avoid taking the conventional leading man route with his choice of roles.

More recently he teamed up again with director Ridley Scott for A Good Year and played boxer Jim Braddock in Cinderella Man.

And although box office takings for these films were disappointing by the Aussie actor's standards, it seems that Russell isn't – and probably never will be – all that bothered.

"I just do things that appeal to me," he says firmly. "My primary focus when I read a script is the same as it's always been. What's the story and what's the character."

One script that made the cut for Russell is this week's cowboy flick 3:10 To Yuma. In it, he plays tough guy outlaw Ben Wade, who is escorted across the desert plains by strapped-for-cash farmer Dan Evans (Christian Bale) to board a prison train and face trial in the town's federal court.

"I really enjoyed the thought of the story," says Russell. "The main thing is reading the script and seeing the dynamic of the characters. I liked the script, and it looked like it was going to be fun."

As you'd expect, the plot doesn't run smoothly. Wade's being pursued by a bounty hunter, played by Peter Fonda, and his own gang, while Wade himself is continually trying to charm his captor into setting him free.

"I don't like Wade and I wouldn't want to hang out with him, but I liked playing the guy," says Russell.

"I liked his forthrightness, his attitude to life and his hat. His trousers weren't bad either – especially the leather inserts!"

Russell also displayed talent with a gun: he was rumoured to be the quickest draw on set.

"Coming from Australia, I didn't have much experience of gun culture," he explains. "So I'd never actually held a hand gun until I was on the set of the Quick And The Dead back in 1993/94."

Overall Russell thought it was any easy film to make. He added: "Ride horses, play with guns, speak in a funny voice, wear pointy boots, you know? It's all fun because it's skill sets that I've already taken on board in previous roles, so I can just focus on the character and the way this particular guy is in his environment. So there's absolutely nothing about this job that was really hard work."

Go upmarket on the Algarve

BY ANN BIRD

THAT Cliff Richard knows a thing or two. So do Michael Owen and Ronan Keating. Not to mention Madonna.

What do they know? That the Quinta do Lago resort on the Algarve is an irresistible place to relax. So irresistible, in fact, that the locals claim these celebs have all bought properties here over the years.

Indeed, Cliff is so taken with this part of Portugal that he's even established a vineyard, Quinta do Moinho, just up the road at Guia, where you can sample his wine.

In reality, Quinta do Lago is actually a vast area of many different resorts and is well known as a haven for golf lovers.

But it's also a surprisingly attractive spot for families, as I discovered when I took my toddler to the Monte da Quinta Club 'village' at the southern end of Quinta do Lago, about a kilometre from the sea.

With about 170 townhouses and villas in the club, each with its own pool, it's like a cross between an upmarket Center Parcs and Wisteria Avenue (for fans of TV's Desperate Housewives).

With almost 100 gardeners and groundstaff employed on the complex, many of these cobbled lanes and immaculate gardens are almost as high-maintenance as those well-heeled women of the small screen.

Each property is privately owned – mainly by British or Irish investors – who then let their houses to tourists at certain times of the year.

ROOMS WITH A VIEW: Monte Da Quinta Club 'village' on the Algarve is the perfect place to relax and unwind

With a maid coming in every day to tidy our villa, it didn't take us long to realise we had all the benefits of staying in a hotel but with the independence and privacy of self-catering thrown in.

Just 100 metres away is the little MQ shopping centre, which includes a stylish trattoria offering decent pizza and pasta takeaways.

Not only is the clubhouse home to the large communal indoor and outdoor pools and health club, it also houses Kids World.

Children from ages three to 12 can be dropped off here for half-day or full-day sessions (20-35 euros) and can then throw themselves into treasure hunts, plaster painting, puppetry or even go on trips to the local zoo.

Kids World will also arrange babysitting for 15 euros an hour.

Quinta do Lago is separated from the Atlantic Ocean by the beautiful Rio Formosa nature reserve, which is home to many migratory birds. A long wooden footbridge crosses the estuary and links the car park, where we left our bikes, to the dune-backed beach.

There, sand and surf stretches as far as the eye can see, the view broken only by the sight of windsurfers making the most of the frequent strong breezes.

It's a great strand for sandcastles, but the sea can be a bit rough – and cold – for little ones.

It's a good idea to bring a picnic, although fish fans can spoil themselves at Gigi's, one of the very few restaurants along the beach and one of the most famous on the Algarve.

There's no menu as such, just a list of the catch, which is charged by the kilo. We went for grilled squid for two in a delicious garlic sauce at 27 euros.

In fact this is one of the few places around here where you might bump into some Portuguese locals. That's how good it is.

In fact, I only began to feel a bit stressed again when it was time to pack up for the half-hour taxi ride to Faro airport for the flight home.

History

A key part of the Algarve's history is the five centuries of Arab occupation. It makes itself known in the region's architecture and the number of place names that begin with Aj. The 1755 earthquake, which had its epicentre very close to Lagos, destroyed much of the Algarve. But not even this would stop the algarvios, who rebuilt the Algarve and made it what it is today.

This holiday

Ann Bird was a guest of Abercrombie & Kent Villas, which offers townhouses sleeping four at Monte da Quinta Club in the Quinta do Lago resort on the Algarve coast from £700 in low season to £1,995 in high season. A&K reservations: 0845 0700 618 and www.abercrombiekent.co.uk

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS
(Jan 21 – Feb 19)

YOU can't change anybody's mind by intimidation. Simply make your case and hope they'll take the hint. If they decide to take a different path, learn to live with it and move in. This may means breaking off your association or finding another job. Fortunately, you are very resilient. Don't get into a childish argument with a lover.

PISCES
(Feb 20 – Mar 20)

RESENTFUL feelings are starting to surface. You can't keep pretending things are just fine. It's time to discuss some painful truths. It's possible career concerns are undermining your relationship. Be brave and take the problem to your boss. Don't spend every minute at the office. You can't work well if you don't have a personal life.

ARIES
(Mar 21 – Apr 20)

RESIST the urge to rush at work or mistakes will happen. An arrogant know-it-all could try to improve your methods, but you're not interested in their ideas, but turning a deaf ear to their suggestions could create a terrible power struggle. Try to give in gracefully to this blowhard's advice, if only for the sake of group harmony.

TAURUS
(Apr 21 – May 21)

IMPULSIVE spending could prevent you from having money for something you really enjoy. Be as frugal as possible. A lover may be pressuring you to go too far, too fast. Put the brakes on now, while you still have a measure of control. Unrealistic expectations at work could force you to spend lots of time away from home.

GEMINI
(May 22 – Jun 22)

A SERIOUS programme of study is coming to a close, giving you more opportunity to get the sort of work you enjoy. Now it's time to turn your attention to family matters. Coming to terms with limitations that were imposed is essential to your personal growth. If this means cutting off contact with critics, so be it. This is a time of transformations.

CANCER
(Jun 23 – Jul 23)

KEEPING your feelings under wraps may not be possible. You've simply got to state your disapproval. Fortunately, you have the opportunity to get away from this person, if only for a few days. A power struggle at work makes it hard to get anything done so you might as well take a break. Keep personal information under lock and key.

LEO
(July 24 – Aug 23)

DON'T fall prey to temptation when friends pressure you into spending money you don't have. If people truly care, they'll respect your request to back off. You could form a love connection with someone spiritual. Don't get drawn into a competition with a rival. Remember a partner has needs or you'll come across as self-centred.

VIRGO
(Aug 24 – Sep 23)

YOU won't be able to change the minds of people in power so don't even try. It's better to go on record as opposing their plans. That way, when their actions backfire, you'll be ready to assume the reins of power. A moneymaking idea could result in a much better work assignment. Turn a deaf ear to a pessimistic relative.

LIBRA
(Sep 24 – Oct 23)

YOU may be burning with jealousy over someone who knows a lot more than you do, but you can achieve just the same level of expertise if you're willing to work for it. It's all a matter of presenting your creative vision to the powers that be. Don't let self doubt prevent you from exploring opportunities, a great opening.

SCORPIO
(Oct 24 – Nov 22)

A FRIEND could betray a secret, leading to an argument. As much as it pains you to do so, you may have to end this relationship. Fortunately, you'll get a lot of hidden support from a prominent woman who witnessed the whole betrayal. Take this opportunity to revisit a memory from childhood that served as a turning point for you.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov 23 – Dec 21)

A BUSINESS or romantic partner may resent your success. While you have no intention of changing your behaviour, it is important to assess this person's position. Maybe you have put your reputation ahead of your relationship. If that's the case, you need to decide which is more important. Don't try to bully people into doing things your way.

CAPRICORN
(Dec 22 – Jan 20)

PUSHING yourself with an exercise regimen could result in an injury. Some powerful anxieties may be causing you to second guess everything that people say. Try not to despair if it seems like your loyalty is misplaced. You'll eventually be rewarded for relinquishing control. This is not a good week to lend or borrow money.

Palin's full of Eastern European promise

BY BEN FALK

MICHAEL Palin is back – this time with a series entitled Michael Palin's New Europe, in which he eschews the far-flung corners of the Earth he tackled in Sahara and Himalaya, to focus on our own continent.

And visiting Europe ended up being just as kooky as his more exotic journeys, particularly when he ventured into Eastern Europe.

He went through 20 countries ("some of them very quickly – sorry Macedonia!") and was delighted to discover the region had changed dramatically since he travelled there during the 80s.

"The misconception was it was grey and grim and it turned out to be very lively and energetic," he says.

Part of that, of course, is thanks to Michael's trademark chats with the locals.

He said: "It's a deliberate process to get people who are basically not politicians, not from the local tourist group and not people who want to tell you about tin production," he explains. "We do try to get non-experts, just people with something to say."

The still-youthful 64-year-old still has to live with the Python spectre which still hangs over this multi-faceted performer, and while his trips to the desert and mountains allowed him to be more anonymous than usual, Europe was a different kettle of fish.

"In Eastern Europe, more than any of the other series, there were a lot of people who did know [me]," he admits.

The series started last Sunday in the former Yugoslavia.

LARKING ABOUT: Michael Palin with children from Estonia whom he met during his new series for BBC One

He said: "Yugoslavia – they loved Monty Python. I remember it was the first non-English-speaking country that took Monty Python, it must have been 1970-71. We were like, 'We've made a sale to a foreign country'."

He added: "The Slavs liked it a lot and I met a lot of people who just said what it meant to them at that time. Laughing at Python was a badge of how they would laugh at the system they had there, a little bit of a dig at authority.

"But I had to try to tell them I'm interested in your world, not my own."

Indeed, for all the incredible, edgy work Michael has done over the years – from Python and A Fish Called Wanda, to all his travel television series – his real life has always been low key.

He has three grown-up children and has been happily married since 1966. The couple live in Highgate, North London, near Python cohort Terry Gilliam.

It's this affable, regular-guy persona that gives his travelogues a unique touch, with Michael agreeing that: "I don't see myself as 'the presenter' who is going to make sense of the world for you. Because I'm learning."

ONE DAY ELLIOTT: MIXING versatility with their own unique sound has proved the key to success for One Day Elliott.

The four-piece rock band from Maidstone have just returned from their second triumphant US tour.

In the UK, One Day Elliott have appeared on the same bill as big acts such as The Fall, Hundred Reasons and Jesse James, and album sales now total more than 5,500. Having been brought to national attention with airplay on Radio One's Lock Up Show, the band certainly appear on the way up.

Vocalist and principal songwriter Paul Richards claims that having influences as diverse as Led Zeppelin and Green Day has helped the band find their own voice. "We all love rock but listen to different styles," he said.

• One Day Elliott will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

THE VALUES: This video clip, called Please Forgive Me, was made by talented trio The Values – Matt Lungley, Will Powell and Brad Stockham from Westerham.

Matt and his friend Brad Stockham (bass guitar) are both 16 and shot the video themselves for their GCSE media this year and also for the band's use.

Matt said: "I started The Values a few years ago with friends Brad and Will Powell and we were joined by drummer Ben Lockwood. The song Please Forgive Me featured in the video is an early demo which Matt wrote.

"The Values write all their own material and love to perform.

"We have different influences, which we bring together to make a fresh tightly-knit sound. Our demos on our website are not very professional compared with how fantastic we sound live."

• Take a look at them at Yourkenttv.co.uk.

CONCRETE JUICE: Made to The Prodigy's Under my Wheel, this video was directed, produced, filmed and edited by Katie Fotis and Natalie Lungley, known as Concrete Juice, from Westerham.

Nat said: "Concrete Juice was created by Katie and me for our A-level media studies. It took us about a week to create, often staying after school. We were both 17 when we made the video and were very pleased with the result. Our idea was to create a female band and produce a video along a theme of feisty individuals who could create shock and intrigue in a male-dominated world. We are now both 19 but are still very proud of our creation. We chose The Prodigy as I love this record and it embodies the video completely. We would love The Prodigy to see the video we have set to their music and hope we have done their track proud."

• Take a look at them at Yourkenttv.co.uk.

Contracts for Textile Collections and Processing from Household Waste Recycling Centres 2007-2009

Kent County Council is an Excellent Rated authority and has very high expectations of itself and its contractors. The contracts which are the subject of this expression of interest centre on the collection, onward transfer and processing of textiles which are deposited at Kent County Council Household Waste Recycling Centre sites. The contracts will be awarded for a period of two years with an expected start of December 2007.

These contracts are focused upon the collection of all textiles from our sites (no pre-sorting). The contracts will be area based packages (East and West Kent) but will also allow for a combined bid to be submitted for both areas. Kent County Council Waste Management is keen to harness innovation as a by product of the tender and this will give potential tenderers the opportunity to provide options within their response which should provide a cost effective solution for the residents of Kent.

We are seeking expressions of interest from suitably qualified and experienced contractors who are interested in working with Kent County Council to deliver this service. We will evaluate options for contract award on the basis of 1 or 2 or both packages per contractor.

The contract packages area splits are:

West Kent
- Maidstone, Swanley, Dartford, Gravesend, Tunbridge Wells, Sevenoaks and Sittingbourne

East Kent
- Faversham, Herne Bay, Sheerness, Ashford, Shorncliffe (Folkestone), Canterbury, Deal, Margate and Richborough

The contract packages collectively deal with approximately 1400 tonnes of textiles per annum with corresponding contract values. This is expected to increase as other contractual initiatives that are centred on the recently let Household Waste Recycling Centre management contracts deliver operationally.

Contract Duration is 2 Years to 2009
Tenders will be invited following completion of a pre-qualification process. Contractors wishing to be considered for inclusion on the select tender list will need to apply in writing (contact details below) for a pre-qualification questionnaire application form, no later than 12 October 2007.
A maximum of 7 companies will then be invited to tender for the provision of the service during November 2007.

PROPERTY NEWS

Victorian splendour that hits the right note

A TURN-of-the-century Victorian home is on offer in Chatham at a price of £475,000.

The address in Maidstone Road is being sold through estate agents Your Move.

The five-bedroom home has a ground floor with an entrance hall, lounge and dining area and steps down to a study.

It also has a designated music room which dates back to a time when a piano was central to a family's leisure activities.

Three bedrooms are on the first floor while a loft space is also being used as a bedroom.

The fifth bedroom is on the lower ground floor, ensuing space and privacy for occupants.

The house also has a rear garden with a grass lawn and steps down to off-street parking, which is large enough to accommodate several cars.

A detached double garage with loft space is included in the purchase of the house.

A little bit of Eden at town's new community

EDEN Village in Sittingbourne is currently pride of place in the portfolio of property developer Barratt's.

With its distinct individual nature and its emphasis on character and community, there are 180 new homes on offer.

These include two-bedroom apartments and two, three, four and five-bedroom homes.

All the buildings are sited around greens and squares and along tree-lined streets to further enhance the environment.

A Barratt's spokesman said: "Future plans include traditional homes to ensure the new village is as delightful as possible."

A formal opening of the new development takes place on the weekend of September 29-30.

This will include a celebratory 'Apple Fest', which will include a hog roast, a bouncy castle, face painters, as well as apple bobbing, cooking and tasting.

"We will be welcoming visitors to this superb development and have laid on a number of activities to ensure they have a good time," the spokesman added.

"This is definitely a not to be missed occasion for anyone interested in new property developments."

JOHN ELLIOTT: Property developer not only has serious doubts over the effectiveness of Home Information Packs, but he predicts an adverse impact on the property market

Controversial property law gains momentum

DESPITE little evidence that HIPs – Home Information Packs – are working successfully, or that they are beneficial to the property market, this week has seen their extension to include properties with three or more bedrooms.

Initially, the scheme was to include all homes, but following heavy criticism the proposals were consistently watered down so that they could only be applied to homes with four bedrooms or more.

However, the recent extension will increase the coverage from 22 to 70 per cent of the property market. But is it too much, too soon?

Not only is it too early to evaluate the effectiveness of HIPs, but there has already been evidence that 'speculative sellers', or those who put their home on with agents to test the market, many of whom end up selling, have now been put off.

JOHN Elliott, chief executive of Millwood Designer Homes, takes a close look at the still contentious introduction of Home Information Packs

With the supply of homes coming on to the market at its lowest level for 10 years, surely we should be encouraging sales and not hindering?

The extension to three-bedroom homes will only limit supply further and push up house prices, which have only recently started to settle.

While it may not affect housebuilders such as myself – new homes are exempt, so long as they have an accredited warranty – potential buyers at our developments will need to be more organised when it comes to selling their existing home.

Furthermore, purchasers part-exchanging homes with developers will also require a HIP, so, depending on how long it takes to gather this information, a normally quick sales process becomes drawn out.

With an energy performance certificate being the only new piece of information that has come from the introduction of HIPs, despite purporting to contain all manner of legal documents, I continue to doubt that they have any real purpose, apart from adding to the coffers of Government.

While I fully support anything designed to help preserve the environment, I don't believe that the certificates go any way towards this and the cost outweighs the benefits.

For the second-hand market the results of this energy performance survey may provide the buyers with the leverage to haggle down the price of the home, meanwhile costing the sellers even more money.

Buckey & Ward

Estate Agents and Residential Lettings

"The whole process of buying and selling should be as smooth and stress free as possible and we go that extra mile to achieve this".

Buckey & Ward are Sittingbourne's longest established Estate Agency and Residential Lettings company. The business was started in 1968 on the corner of West Street and William Street by Brian Buckey and Ian Ward.

In 1995 the company changed hands and was sold to Ian Seager who runs the sales department along with Sue Melloy. The Residential Lettings Department was re-launched to take advantage of a rejuvinated lettings market, and is enjoying unpresedented success.

Ian has enjoyed dealing with property and land all over the county, from paddocks to rambling estates, from studio flats to new development sites.

Our philosophy is to treat people as we would wish to be treated, and to be straight talking and honest.

"The whole process of buying and selling should be as smooth and stress free as possible and we go that extra mile to achieve this".

We are always interested in hearing from you – whether it be questions, comments or requests for more information.

MOTORS NEWS

Choosing atlas wins a Toyota Aygo city car

SAT navs may be all the rage, but buying an atlas was a shrewd choice for Paul Benton of Broadstairs – it won him a chic Toyota Aygo city car in a joint promotion by Toyota and publisher Harper Collins.

Mr Benton was presented with the Aygo by Robert Hobbs, centre manager at Motorline Toyota, Canterbury.

He said: "There were an astonishing 700,000 entries for the national competition, which really raised the profile for the Aygo (pronounced I-go) – one of our best sellers.

"Once people try it, they are always impressed – it may be small on the outside, but it's big on the inside."

New era for Peugeot of both style and quality

PEUGEOT'S new French revolution starts with the first of its '8' series of models and a new era in which the brand offers greater quality and style.

The wide sculpted design of the new 308 Ford Focus challenger appears compact yet the cabin feels huge, with or without a panoramic glass roof.

This is largely due to the forward angling of the dashboard/facia and a swooping centre console.

Materials, clocks and gauges are from a class above – while seating and passenger comfort is impressive.

New Saab makeover offers Aero appeal

SAAB has given a dramatic aerodynamic makeover to its 9-3 sports saloon, SportWagon estate and convertible range.

Maidstone Saab brand manager Kevin Root said: "Initial reaction to the new 9-3 has been extremely positive thanks to significant development across three key areas: design, performance and handling.

"The result is a major step forward in strengthening the visual and driving appeal of the award-winning 9-3 range."

Forthcoming options include 'XWD' 4x4 on Saab 9-3 Aero Saloon and SportWagon sporting flagships.

WHAT'S IN A NAME: The Qashqai may be unpronounceable but it provides a good ride in both town and country and can compete for Nissan in several markets

Nissan's right to roam

MANY theories explain why Nissan named its new family hatchback after an Asian nomadic tribe, the Qashqai.

First, that Nissan itself has meandered too long in this tough market sector.

Second, the Qashqai must put itself about a bit, replacing both the Almera and larger Primera and attacking other sectors too.

Third, all sensible name options were taken up and registered by other car firms years ago.

Fourth? I hear someone had a bad cold at a marketing brainstorm. After several loud 'Qashqais!' the whole naming panel was screaming: "That's it! You're a genius!"

But the official line is the Qashqai writes its own rules and lives anywhere – town or country.

With two-wheel drive or 4x4 options and looks mixing streetwise hatch with a dash of off-roader, it can be family hack, rep's motorway muncher, rural runabout or school bus.

While it looks bigger, its 'footprint' is no more than a family hatch, yet offers more boot space.

And junior engine and trim options are priced to compete (from £13,499) with everyday hatchbacks like the Ford Focus and Vauxhall Astra, though would-be people carrier and recreational 4x4 buyers might try it for size too.

Most sales will be humbler two-wheel drive Qashqais that feel nimbler, ride better and concede little in handling and grip in normal on-road conditions, though both layouts deliver a good ride and tidy cornering.

The Qashqai's distinctive exterior is matched by a smart and comfortable interior with clever stowage and laden with standard goodies; Bluetooth hands-free 'connectivity', electric windows, air con, glovebox cooler and alloys.

Our favourite is the 1.5 dCi (Acenta trim £16,149), using a low emission diesel engine and worth the £1,100 premium over the 1.6 petrol if you cover many miles. It is lively and a six-speed gearbox helps it average 50+mpg.

There are also two-litre petrol and diesel units – the likely choice if you have that £1,600 4x4 option.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Chamber kicks off black tie dinner dance

THE North Kent Chamber of Commerce stages a dinner dance at the home of Gillingham Football Club on Friday.

The business organisation, which represents members across Swale, is holding the event in conjunction with the Thames Gateway Chamber.

The black tie and evening dress event starts with pre-dinner drinks at 6.45pm and a three-course meal, with live music from The Choice. It ends at midnight.

It takes place in the Priestfield Conference & Banqueting suite at the club's home ground in Redfern Avenue.

For details on how to attend contact Sharon Hogbin on 01634 311411, or email shogbin@northkentchamber.org. The cost is £34.04 plus VAT.

Get value for money from your banking

SMALL businesses in the region are missing out to the tune of more than £87m each year by not shopping around for the best business current account.

And nationwide, that figure is closer to half a billion pounds.

The warning for the South East's companies comes from research conducted by the Alliance & Leicester.

Steve Jennings, director of business banking at Alliance & Leicester Commercial Bank, said: "It's vital businesses review their banking regularly to ensure they are receiving the value they deserve."

Staff celebrate going home safe and sound

STAFF at Cemex's ReadyFloor plant in Rochester are celebrating 365 days without a single work-related accident.

The site, which produces flooring systems from pre-stressed concrete beams face a number of health and safety challenges every day.

So company bosses are delighted to have gone a whole year with a single incident for the second year in its history.

A company spokesman said: "By tackling these issues head on workers have shown significant results can be obtained.

"Work-related injuries and ill-health incidents are preventable and it should be the right of every employee to go home unharmed at the end of the working day."

Massive restoration project nears an end

RETURN TO GLORY: Cardy Construction have been working to restore the famous 18th century mansion Luton Hoo for two years, and can now celebrate the project's completion

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

BATS, James Bond, Hugh Grant and the Queen – all have been part of Cardy Construction's latest and largest project: the restoration of the spectacular 18th century mansion Luton Hoo in Bedfordshire.

The Kent construction firm, specialists in returning old buildings to their former glory, is just wrapping up a £50 million-plus restoration of the grand house that received the Queen on her honeymoon, and has played host to several high profile British films including Four Weddings and a Funeral and The World is Not Enough.

Once complete, the building will form the jewel in the crown of leading luxury hotelier Elite Hotels.

Kent-based Cardy's contracts director Mike Stannard said: "It has certainly been one of our biggest projects to date.

"However, we have a great deal of experience in jobs of this nature, and we have a long standing relationship with Elite Hotels – so it was not such a daunting task."

Not only was the restoration one of the biggest projects Cardy have tackled, it was also one of the strangest.

Mr Stannard said: "The estate is home to several species of bats, which are protected species, and breeding sites.

"We liaised with the Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs and built a 'bat cave' with 50 bat boxes to re-house bats found on site during the restoration project."

And that wasn't the only unusual job facing the firm which has been working on the site since September 2005.

Mr Stannard said: "One of the main challenges is that when you're working on a building that's more than 200-years-old you cannot rely on up-to-date survey information.

"This means we had to perform a lot of investigation work to find out if we could do things the way they were drawn by the designers.

"Sometimes we found that things weren't always as they seemed, which meant there were a few problems to overcome.

"But that's why we're here."

On top of that, the sheer scale of the project was breathtaking. Cardy's builders installed 175,000 metres of cabling, used one million bricks in new buildings, restored 27 chimney stacks and indented more than 3,500 pieces of new stone into the external walls of the mansion house.

Gillingham chairman Paul Scally talks to our new online TV channel

Ladies first as Holcombe win

HOLCOMBE Ladies firsts continued their excellent pre-season form with a resounding 5-1 win against Gravesend on Saturday.

A hat-trick from Jenny Hoyte ensured the win, with both Debbie Laing and Louise Cassey also finding the net. The only reply came from a deflected short corner which gave the defence little chance of stopping.

In a more ruthless mood Holcombe might have scored more as they forced plenty of short corners and efforts on goal.

Gravesend have proved a tough opponent in the past, and this result means the team go into the league programme full of confidence.

They begin their East Kent League Premier Division campaign at home to Bromley and Beckenham this Saturday.

The Men's seconds continued their warm-up to the season with a 2-2 draw against Bromley & Beckenham seconds.

HEADS UP: Delroy Facey goes in for the ball against Albion's Butters; and right, Since Jepson's departure, the team were led by caretaker duo Mick Docherty and Iffy Onoura

Saving Facey: Gills end hard week on a high

DELROY Facey's first goal for Gillingham ensured the club ended a difficult week with a win that lifted them clear of the relegation zone.

In the first game since Ronnie Jepson's departure, the team were led by caretaker duo Mick Docherty and Iffy Onoura. In his first post-match press conference since taking temporary charge, Onoura hailed the Gills' defence.

"The back four were immense," he said.

"They defended well as a unit as Brighton were quite bright at times. When we got the ball down and passed it we stretched their back four at times.

"On balance both defences had reasonable games and there was always going to be just the one goal in it."

The decisive strike came on 82 minutes. Nicky Southall played in Facey, who was strong to shrug off a challenge and fire a low show into the corner of the net for his first goal since joining the club in the summer.

Gillingham 1 – 0 Brighton & Hove Albion

With a full-strength side to pick from for the first time this season, Docherty and Onoura began with a 3-5-2 formation with Efe Sodje, Simon King and Ian Cox at the heart of defence.

Brighton fielded two ex-Gills players up front in Nicky Forster and Bas Savage, and their sharpness early on prompted the new managerial partnership to switch to 4-4-2 early on.

The home side looked anxious early on but the visitors, who came into the game in the top six could not take advantage.

The best opportunity for the Gills in the first period fell to Steve Lomas on 31 minutes. Mark Bentley knocked down an Andrew Crofts cross and the former Northern Ireland international volleyed from 20 yards. It was a sweet strike but Michel Kuipers in the Brighton goal produced an outstanding save to turn it round the post.

A crowd of 6,118, the largest this season, grew increasingly nervous in a tight second period.

The visitors looked the more likely to make the breakthrough. Simon Royce made a good save to deny Alex Revell and Forster fired wide when he should have done better.

That set the scene for Facey's goal, and Gills hung on to get their second win of the season, sending them to 17th place in the league.

For Onoura and Docherty it was the perfect start to their spell in charge. Both have stated they would be interested in the job on a permanent basis and the result will have done their chances no harm.

Onoura said: "The table looks better already so we are delighted with the result.

"This club is very close to my heart. If the chairman gave me the opportunity to take the club forward I would be delighted."

Dragons slayed opponents to be crowned winners

Pictures MARTIN O'BRIEN

UNDER 9s: The team won the the Harlequins Rugby League Champions Festival

MEDWAY Dragons Rugby League Under 9s won the Harlequins Rugby League Champions Festival last Saturday, at The Twickenham Stoop, to be crowned the top Rugby League Team in London and the South at Under 9 level.

The Dragons eased through the league section of the tournament with wins over Whitton Warriors, Feltham Falcons, New Malden Magpies and Croydon Hurricanes.

This set up a final against Whitton Warriors who finished second in the group and conquered the Dragons on the debut last season.

However, history did not repeat itself and Rebecca Wadhams scored the opening try in the corner. Sam Sharpe scored a second before the Warriors fought back scoring two quick tries to make it 2-2.

RUGBY

With minutes remaining, Sharpe managed to break through the defence and score a try to secure the title for the Dragons.

Another boost for Medway Rugby Club is the news that youth players Lawrence Chittil and Luke Edwards have been selected for scholarships at Harlequins Rugby League team.

The boys attended the London & the South Elite Player Development Camp in August, an intense two-day assessment centre and also played in the London RL Origin Game.

From the forty players attending the Elite Player Development Camp, just twelve are selected for the scholarship which involves weekly trips to Harlequins Training HQ at Roehampton.

Phil Jones, Player Performance Manager at Harlequins RL was delighted with the performance of the players and said: "I was very impressed with the skills, effort and attitude of the lads, especially as they are new to the game of Rugby League. We are looking forward a year of intense development with Lawrence and Luke as junior Harlequins and also developing the sport in Kent."

Chatham fail in causing Cup upset

FOOTBALL

BY DAVID PRITCHARD

Chatham Town 0 – 3 Margate

CHATHAM Town put up a spirited display against their Ryman Premier visitors but a lack of ruthlessness and luck prevented an FA Cup upset.

Margate needed two late goals to ensure their passage, but Chatham had good reason to feel hard done by after the officials chalked off a perfectly good goal.

Chatham were without boss Phil Miles who was recovering in hospital from a successful operation. In his place they were led by Steve Best, who was philosophical about the disallowed goal but frustrated with the way the team started.

"I really couldn't understand why the goal didn't count, but things happen like that in football and we have got to get on with it," he said.

"I said to the lads before the game that we had to concentrate, and within five minutes they scored because we were not alert. Things like that kill you against a team from a higher division."

Margate took the lead with their first attack of the game. James Pinnock's shot across the goal beat John Whitehouse and Charley Side slid in to score.

For the first quarter the visitors were in control, but Chatham fought back and had the ball in the net on 21 minutes.

Most controversially, Dominic Elmes' volley from a corner found the net but after a lengthy discussion the goal was ruled out by the referee. Mark Brooks was given offside despite Margate having a man on the line.

Chatham worked hard but lacked a cutting edge, and Margate showed their ability with two late goals.

First substitute Mark Watson powered home from close range and then full-back Justin Skinner scored from 25 yards in injury time.

Dynamos bring down Spitfires

BEST YET: Invicta Dynamos romped to best win of season against Romford

ICE HOCKEY

Invicta Dynamos 10
Romford Spitfires 2

INVICTA Dynamos produced their best display of the season on Sunday, with a convincing win against Romford Spitfires.

Kev Lake, Joe Allen and Jamie Smith all scored twice as the home side bounced back from two heavy defeats to Slough the week before.

Lake returned to the squad, but were without Stuart Low, Damien Welch, Anthony Lennon, and the injured Tim Smith and Peter Carey.

The Spitfires had the best chance early on when former Invicta junior, Rhodri Jones, found himself with just one Mos defender to beat, but saw his shot saved by Glen Jackson.

The hosts hit back and took the lead with a swift counter attack, finished by Lake after 1:56.

Allen scored his first Mos goal soon after and Alex Shaw made it 3-0 after 14:44.

The Spitfires were still creating chances and scored either side of the first break, through Matt Turner and Ben Osborne, to make it 3-2.

That was as good as it got for the visitors and Dynamos restored their two-goal cushion through Karl Lennon just 14 seconds later.

It was soon 5-2 as Andy Smith seized on a rebound from a Ryan Giles shot.

The game was won before the end of the second period when Romford's Keith Waller was penalised for interference and Ken Forshee fired home a powerplay goal for a 6-2 lead.

The final period saw yet more Dynamos' pressure and it paid off when Joe Allen set up Jamie Smith for the home side's seventh goal at 42:19.

There was still time for Lake, Smith and Allen to bag each of their second goals of the evening for a resounding 10-2 scoreline.

CHATHAM snowboarder Cody Hierons had a successful day in the British Snow Tour event at the Chatham ski centre on Saturday.

The 14 year old picked up third overall in the men's Big Air competition and second in the men's Slopestyle event.

Hierons said: "It was brilliant I didn't expect to finish so high in the mens event."

Last-minute legal error left Gills AGM cancelled

GILLINGHAM'S Annual General Meeting had to be abandoned last week after a clerical error prevented some shareholders from receiving enough notice the meeting was taking place.

Legally the club must notify its shareholders 21 days before the AGM takes place, but not everyone was informed in time.

The club was forced to terminate the meeting, as anything agreed on the night would not have been legally binding.

The meeting will now be rescheduled.

Gills Ladies hoping to sparkle on Sunday's game

GILLINGHAM Ladies continue their South East Combination League campaign with a game against Rushden and Diamonds on Sunday.

The Gills have made a mixed start to the season, with the highlight so far a 5-2 win away at Bedford Town Belles. They face a tough game against the Diamonds, who have started the season strongly.

The next home game for the side is against Enfield Town next Wednesday at Woodstock Park, near Sittingbourne. Kick off is at 8pm.

Orienteer your way to developing a new hobby
